T1D Empowerment
And Management

The TEAM Study Newsletter
Issue 2 Summer 2018

The mission of the TEAM study is to strengthen family teamwork toward sustainable healthy behaviors among African American/Black and Hispanic/Latino families with children ages 5-9 who have type 1 diabetes (T1D) by conducting experience driven research.

Project Updates

The TEAM study staff hosted two Information Sessions during the month of July at the Texas Children's Hospital Meyer Building. Families of children with type 1 diabetes (T1D) were invited to meet the research staff and community partners, and their thoughts about research.

July 11, 2018 - Information Session: 9 attendees

July 28, 2018 - Information Session: 13 attendees

Next Steps for the TEAM Study

The TEAM study staff is conducting qualitative data analysis of interviews with families on the challenges and facilitators to T1D management to inform the development of the TEAM program intervention.

Next TEAM partnership meeting: September 2018

What is Type 1 Diabetes?

Type 1 diabetes is a chronic, autoimmune condition that occurs when the body's own immune system attacks the insulin-producing beta cells of the pancreas. The attack leaves the pancreas with little or no ability to produce insulin, a hormone that regulates blood sugar. Learn more about Type 1 Diabetes (JDRF).
