

Reflect on Your Progress

Take some time to reflect on how mission plans have been going so far by answering the following questions:

What has gone well?

What has gone differently than you expected?

What challenges have there been?

What do you think you need to keep doing?

What do you wish to change?