

Are you the parent of an autistic child with anxiety?

Baylor
College of Medicine

Baylor College of Medicine is conducting a study providing anxiety treatment designed to fit the needs of autistic children (aged 11-17). The treatment is a form of internet-based cognitive-behavioral therapy (CBT).

Who is eligible?

- Autistic child aged 11-17 with anxiety, worries, fears, phobias
- Parents speak English/Spanish
- Reside in Texas

What happens?

- 12 weeks of... internet-based, self-guided CBT with virtual support from a therapist at no cost
- 3 clinical assessments with up to $300 compensation

How to enroll?

- Email us...

AnxietyAndASD@bcm.edu

- Or visit this link...

<https://redcap.link/luna-a>

- Or scan the QR code

