
OBJECTIVES

At the end of this lecture, participants should be able to—

• To evaluate how showing a patient’s body to surrogates could potentially manipulate goals of care decisions at the end of life.

• To explore how the senses might impact the rational decision-making of surrogates.

• To identify ethical ways of showing a patient’s body to inform decisions without unduly influencing or manipulating them.

ACCESS

ZOOM  REGISTER

Texas Children’s Hospital is accredited with distinction as a provider of nursing continuing professional development by the American Nurses Credentialing Center’s Commission on Accreditation. This NCPD activity awards 1.0 contact hour each session in the Ethics Grand Rounds series.