

Brian Klosterboer

Brian Klosterboer is a staff attorney who joined the American Civil Liberties Union of Texas a Skadden fellow in 2018. Brian focuses on LGBTQ rights and represents Texas students and families who face discrimination based on gender, race, and religion in public schools across the state. As a member of the ACLU of Texas's smart justice team, Brian also engages in impact litigation and advocacy to transform Texas's criminal justice system, end police violence against Black and Latinx communities, and defend the rights of protesters across the state.

Prior to joining the ACLU of Texas, Brian served as a law clerk for Judge Vanessa D. Gilmore of the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Texas. Brian graduated from Harvard Law School and Centre College in Danville, Kentucky. In 2012, Brian spent a year living in Kampala, Uganda, where he conducted research as a Fulbright Fellow, worked as a journalist, and co-founded a bar and restaurant. A Texas native, Brian is on the board of the LGBT Law Section of the Texas State Bar and the advisory council of the Trans Legal Aid Clinic Houston.