

CRIS ONE PAGE

01-2021

Teaching Pearl

A Quality Evaluation Tool for Online Educational Resources

With rapid expansion of Free Open Access Online Educational Resources (e.g. blogs, podcasts), medical trainees use these resources to supplement traditional educational materials. Medical educators need to learn and guide trainees how to evaluate the quality of these online resources.

Click HERE for content

Podcast

A Coaching Series for Medical Educators

The "Huddle" discusses coaching within medicine's professional culture. In each episode, experts and guests in health professions education share their stories, successes, and setbacks providing and receiving coaching.

Click HERE to listen

Webinar

USMLE STEP-1 Is Going to Pass/Fail: Now What Do We Do?

The debate about the pros and cons of the USMLE Step 1 score reporting has been ongoing for over a decade. The issues are complicated and both positive and negative aspects of score reporting can be cited, depending on where you are positioned in the UME-GME continuum. Two sessions on 1/28 and 2/4, 11 am-12 pm.

Register: faced@bcm.edu

Faculty Development

Social Media & The Healthcare Professional

What exactly is online professionalism in the age of social media? The speakers provide their perspectives on this topic and then engage participants in a discussion of this concept.

Click HERE to view the session

Scholarship Tip

Collaborative Writing: How to Use Google Docs Efficiently

Do you ever feel like you are the only one working on a paper? The purpose of this workshop is to discuss the rationale, the mechanics, and the management strategies that you can use to speed up your writing process.

Click HERE to view the session

Upcoming Educational Events

How the Pandemic Made Me a Better Educator, Feb 7, 10-11 am

Harvard Business School Free Webinar

Register HERE

Making Project-Based Learning Work in an Online Curriculum, Feb 11, 10-11 am

Harvard Business School Free Webinar

Register HERE

Norton Rose Fulbright Workshop, Feb 26, 1-3 pm

Register: remijioe@bcm.edu

Important Dates

AMEE Abstract Submission due, Nov 1,
Submit HERE

ICRE 2021 Abstract Submission due,
Feb 12, Submit HERE

The Norton Rose Fulbright Award
Portfolios due, Mar 22