

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

While at Baylor College of Medicine, being a member of a student organization will help promote personal growth, develop leadership skills and help build community.

PROFESSIONAL INTERESTS

- American Society for Microbiology
- Consulting Club
- Intellectual Property Interest Group
- Med-Peds Interest Group
- Postdoctoral Association
- STEM Education Interest Group
- Texas Medical Center Medical Science Liaison Club

ENVENTURE

Provides a bridge between academia and the biotech industry for educational, networking, and leadership opportunities.

DIVERSITY, EQUITY AND INCLUSION

- Association for Graduate Student Diversity
- Association for Women in Science
- BCM Pride
- Black Scientist Collective
- Chinese Student and Scholars Association

GOT SPOONS?

A group for those with disabilities, chronic illness or those navigating accommodations to come together to participate in outreach or education initiatives to destigmatize and increase awareness of disability.

- Christians in Scientific Research
- Hispanic Women in Science
- International Student Association
- Society for Advancement of Chicano/Hispanics and Native Americans in Science at Baylor College of Medicine
- Taiwanese Student and Scholars Association
- Texas Taiwanese Biotechnology Association

SPECIAL INTERESTS

- Docappella
- Graduate Student Council
- Taekwondo Club

PICK-UP GAMES SOCIETY

A college-wide student group that meet at nearby outdoor fields for sports and activities. We aim to support physical and mental health, and provide an outlet to meet students from different domains.

